To: <wpdchief@warwick.net>
Subject: Warwick Intersections and Safety Plan for Farm to Fork Fondo bicycle event June 26, 2016

Hello Chief McGovern,

As we discussed over the phone, Orange County Sheriff Department and New York State Police will each be contributing two officers on June 26 to assist with participant safety at key intersections on course.

The intersections in Warwick that I am requesting coverage from those agencies are:

- NY-94 at Pennings Farm from approximately 8:30am to 1pm
- 17-A at Bellvale Farms Creamery from approximately 12 to 3pm
- NY-94 at Claire Ann Drive and East Ridge Rd from approximately 11:30am to 2pm
- Pulaski Highway and Pine Island Turnpike from approximately 8:45 to 9:30am

Here are the route maps:

- 87-mile option: <https://ridewithgps.com/routes/10854801> (passes through Claire Ann Drive and Bellvale Farms Creamery)
- 54-mile option: <https://ridewithgps.com/routes/10878328>
- 36-mile option: <https://ridewithgps.com/routes/10850318> (passes through Pine Island Tpke & Pulaski Highway intersection)
- 12-mile option: <https://ridewithgps.com/routes/10850067>

Please let me know if you have any questions. I will let you know if I have any trouble covering any of the critical intersections in Warwick. Participant safety is my #1 priority at this event.

Thank you for your support and cooperation.

Sincerely,

Tyler Wren

Section II - Who Is An Insured is amended to include as an additional insured the person(s) or organization(s) shown in the Schedule, but only with respect to liability for "bodily injury", "property damage" or "personal and advertising injury" caused, in whole or in part, by your acts or omissions or the acts or omissions of those acting on your behalf:

1. In the performance of your ongoing operations; or
2. In connection with your premises owned by or rented to you.

However:

1. The insurance afforded to such additional insured only applies to the extent permitted by law; and
2. If coverage provided to the additional insured is required by a contract or agreement, the insurance afforded to such additional insured will not be broader than that which you are required by the contract or agreement to provide for such additional insured.

- B. With respect to the insurance afforded to these additional insureds, the following is added to Section III - Limits Of Insurance:

If coverage provided to the additional insured is required by a contract or agreement, the most we will pay on behalf of the additional insured is the amount of insurance:

1. Required by the contract or agreement; or

2. Available under the applicable Limits of Insurance shown in the Declarations; whichever is less.

This endorsement shall not increase the applicable Limits of Insurance shown in the Declarations

All other terms and conditions of the policy remain the same.

RE: Re-appointment to Pine Island Recreation Board

Dear Mr. Sweeton, Councilmen DeAngelo, Gerstner, Kowal and Shuback,

This letter is a request to be re-appointed to the Pine Island Recreation Board that I have served on for a number of years as my present term expires on May 31, 2016. I enjoy serving in this capacity and have been a part of the growth of the Pine Island Recreation program along with the other members.

My hope is that you will re-appoint me and I thank you in advance for your consideration in this appointment.

Sincerely,

Paulette Wilk Rudy

Stairway to Heroin

Thursday, April 28, 2016

Presentation begins at 7:00 PM

The Greenwood Lake Middle School
1247 Lakes Road, Monroe, NY 10950

We have become a society where the prevailing pressure on our youth is to "do drugs". How did we get here? And how do we deal with this devastating and debilitating problem that is affecting our families and community. This presentation will tackle these questions and provide valuable information on the greatest health issue facing our country today.

Parents are still the most powerful influence in their children's lives. Children who learn about the risks of drugs and alcohol from their parents are 50% less likely to use than those who don't learn. Please join us to hear how you can be part of the solution to this ever-growing concern in our community.

For questions about this event, please contact Theresa Finn at tfinn@gwlufsd.org or Chief John Hansen at 845-477-9211.

Subject: Little Free Library Grand Opening/Ribbon Cutting - May 21, 2016

Hello everyone!

Our Little Free Library event will take place on Saturday, May 21, 2016 at Pine Island Park in Pine Island, New York at 11 am. We are officially on the Town calendar! Initially, there was a conflict with the date as the Warwick Valley Gardeners (WVG) will also be at the park that day selling plants and they reserved the park first. As I explained to Jane of WVG, we would be holding our 15-20 minute ceremony down by the flagpole on the corner of Treasure Lane and Kay Road at the park. Their plant sale is taking place under the pavilion. With that being the case, Jane agreed to let us share the park with them. The only request she made is that we ask our attendees to park over by the tennis courts on Treasure Lane.

According to Warwick Town Supervisor Michael Sweeton (as told to me by Town Clerk, Eileen Astorino), we do not have to fill out any paperwork nor provide Certificates of Liability Insurance since our event is a town dedication.

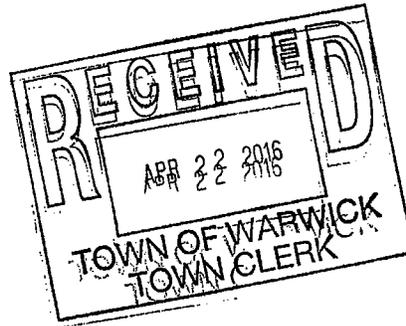

Although the town can loan us a podium, Jerome Christie of Cornell Cooperative Extension has offered us use of a PA system from the 4-H office. I will work out the details with him.

Club families – Please use “reply” instead of “reply all” for your responses to this email.

I am looking forward to this time of celebration on the May 21st. Thank you all for your support.

Sincerely,

Annette Henderson

Clear the way to the meter

For the health and safety of our field representatives, especially our meter readers, we ask that you maintain a safe area around your meter so that our employees can access it and read it accurately.

Here's what you can do to help our meter readers get an accurate monthly reading of your energy use:

- Make sure that trees, vines and shrubs are trimmed near the meter
- Keep the pathway to the meter free of debris and vegetation
- Eliminate stinging insects and poisonous plants from the area
- Keep your dog inside, in another room or away from the meter on the scheduled meter reading date that appears on your monthly statement

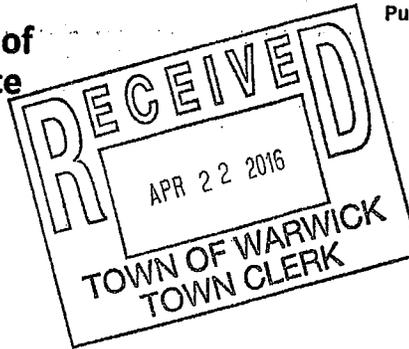

If you prefer to submit your own meter reading, please go to www.oru.com/ezreader

April 19, 2016

Dear Community Leader/Elected Official:

In January 2016, the New York State Public Service Commission directed Staff to develop a process for Commission consideration of a Clean Energy Standard (CES) program. The CES mandates that by the year 2030, half of the electricity used in the State will come from renewable resources such as solar, wind and hydro. Staff prepared a White Paper on Clean Energy Standard, as well as a cost-benefit analysis (Cost Study) of the proposed CES and issued these reports for public comment.

To ensure full public participation in this proceeding, the Department will conduct a series of informational sessions and public statement hearings to seek input and comments from your community on Staff's White Paper and Cost Study. At the information session, Staff will provide an overview of the CES program and what it means for consumers and will be available to answer questions. The information sessions will be immediately followed by public statement hearings at which all those who wish to comment on CES and the Staff reports will have an opportunity to make a statement on the record, for the Commission to consider in its deliberations.

It is the Department's intention to facilitate and encourage active and meaningful public participation throughout the entire CES proceeding. If you cannot attend one of the hearings, I encourage you and your constituents to comment using one of the methods described in the attached factsheet. Additional information regarding the CES proceeding, including Staff's White Paper and Cost Study, is available on the Department's website at www.dps.ny.gov under Case Number 15-E-0302.

Sincerely,

Michael Corso
Consumer Advocate and Director
Office of Consumer Services

Spotlight on Clean Energy Standard

In December 2015, Governor Andrew Cuomo directed the New York State Department of Public Service (DPS) to develop a Clean Energy Standard (CES) to meet the State Energy Plan's 50% renewable energy by 2030 target through an enforceable mandate. The Governor also directed the DPS to explore ways to keep emission-free nuclear power facilities operational to continue New York's greenhouse gas emissions reductions. Proposed as a core component of Governor Cuomo's Reforming the Energy Vision (REV), the benefits of the CES are highlighted in a complementary factsheet found at the www.ny.gov website and searching for "Clean Energy Standard."

At its January 2016 session, the Public Service Commission (PSC) directed the DPS Staff to develop a White Paper and process for Commission consideration of a CES program. DPS Staff investigated best practices of renewable portfolio standards across the country, particularly in neighboring states. The "Staff White Paper on Clean Energy Standard" was released on January 25, 2016 for comment, and can be accessed at the Commission's www.dps.ny.gov website through the REV webpage or by typing the following url: <http://tinyurl.com/zn837a8>.

Summary of Staff White Paper on Clean Energy Standard

Proposed Policy Objectives for Public Comment

Currently, New York meets about 26% of its electricity needs from renewable sources and 30% from nuclear generation. The Staff White Paper on CES proposes the following principal policy objectives:

1. Increase renewable electricity supply to achieve the "50 by 30" goal,
2. Support construction of new renewable generation in New York State,
3. Prevent closure of emissions-free nuclear facilities, and
4. Promote the progress of REV market objectives.

Proposed CES Framework for Public Comment

New energy procurement requirements for utilities & other retail energy supply companies (ESCOs): Providers of electricity to New York homes and businesses would be required to comply with the CES, in proportion to their annual retail electricity sales. The New York State Power Authority and Long Island Power Authority are also expected to comply.

Energy procurements from three tiers: Utilities and ESCOs would be required to procure a percentage of their electricity from three "tiers" (or categories of energy resources):

1. Existing Renewables; 2. New Renewable Generation; and 3. Existing Nuclear Power Resources. This would provide the utilities and ESCOs with flexibility in choosing renewable technologies to meet the mandate and support for existing eligible nuclear facilities thereby providing clear alignment between the CES program elements and the desired policy outcomes.

Eligible renewable energy resources: Eligible renewable energy resources include wind, solar, hydroelectric, biomass, biogas, liquid biofuel, fuel cells and tidal ocean. The White Paper also recommends including certain out-of-state resources that can deliver clean electricity into New York in order to expand supply options and increase market competition.

Continued operation of zero-emission power plants: The Staff White Paper proposes the establishment of a requirement that all utilities and ESCOs procure a pro rata share of Zero Emission Credits (ZECs) attributable to generation from qualified nuclear facilities to maintain the State's current largest source of zero-emission electricity which is nuclear power generation. Near-term closure of nuclear generating plants in response to current economic pressures would increase New York State's reliance on fossil fuel-generating plants, resulting in increases in carbon emissions of over 15.5 million metric tons each year.

Verifying CES compliance: Utilities and ESCOs would demonstrate compliance with the new CES mandate through the use of tradable renewable energy credits (RECs) for renewable energy purchases and ZECs for qualified nuclear generation purchases. RECs and ZECs would be tracked by a new State electronic tracking system currently under development. Annual requirements for RECs and ZECs would be established on a three-year basis.

Cost containment: An "alternative compliance payment mechanism" would be established for each CES tier allowing utilities and ESCOs to pay into a fund as an alternative to purchasing RECs or ZECs when they are in short supply and effectively capping REC and ZEC prices. Costs of meeting the CES will be further reduced by other state energy programs and initiatives to advance clean energy, including the Clean Energy Fund, utility energy efficiency programs, and utility investments in demand side resources.

Energy and environmental values of renewable development in New York: The White Paper proposed several options for providing renewable energy developers an opportunity to capture the monetary value of 1) the energy produced by renewable facilities, and 2) the environmental benefits associated with its electricity generation. Capturing these value streams is important to support project financing, reduce compliance costs and provide generators and customers with price stability.

Limits on utility ownership of renewable resources: The White Paper proposed that investor-owned utilities would continue to be prohibited from owning electricity-generating facilities, including renewable resources, except in exceptional circumstances where there are unambiguous benefits to consumers not being provided by third-party providers. Utilities, however, would be allowed to partner with third parties in investments in renewable generation if it lowers cost and is consistent with principles of the Commission's REV Orders.

Implementation and assessment: Upon Commission approval of a CES program, DPS Staff would develop an implementation plan in consultation with the New York State Energy Research and Development Authority. The Commission would conduct assessments of the CES every three years so the program can be adjusted as needed to achieve the "50 by 30" mandate.

Summary of Clean Energy Standard Cost Study

A benefit-cost analysis of the proposed CES is required to support the Commission's obligation to ensure that electric prices are just and reasonable. The study examines the impact that key cost drivers can have on overall consumer bills and will assist the Commission in the design and implementation of a cost-effective CES. The Clean Energy Standard White Paper – Cost Study (Cost Study) was issued on April 8, 2016 for comment, and can be accessed through the Commission website or by typing the following url: <http://tinyurl.com/hmjkmfa>. For stakeholders formally participating in the proceeding comments are due June 6, 2016.

The Cost Study estimates that, even in this period of lower electricity prices due to historically low natural gas prices, New York can meet its clean energy targets with a less than 1% impact on electricity bills (or less than $1 per month for the typical residential customer) in the near term and shows a net positive benefit of $1.8 billion by 2023 due in large part to the benefits associated with carbon emissions reductions. Importantly, the conclusions presented in the Cost Study are based on analyses covering the period from 2017 through 2023 due to a comparatively high degree of confidence in near-term forecasts and input assumptions. The detailed analysis through 2023 also coincides with the timing of the periodic three-year CES reviews as proposed in the White Paper. Forecasting the cost of achieving the entire 2030 target is deemed highly speculative at this point. However, the Cost Study does provide 2030 estimates that indicate modest bill impacts and a net positive benefit in reaching the full 50% mandate.

Public Involvement

The Commission strongly believes that obtaining public input regarding the CES program is critical to developing a rational and balanced approach to achieving the State's clean energy goals. Stakeholders such as consumers, government agencies and officials, public interest and environmental groups and industry representatives are invited to review and submit comments on the CES White Paper and the Cost Study. To ensure public involvement, the Commission will also provide opportunities, such as workshops and public statement hearings, to hear from stakeholders and the public on the design and development of the CES.

Comments on the Clean Energy Standard proceeding can be submitted to the Commission through the following methods:

- Via Public Statement Hearing: A series of hearings will be held across the state in the 2016. Hearing dates will be announced via public notices, press releases and the Commission's www.dps.state.gov website.
